Some programs will ask you to write a single essay covering both your personal background and what you wish to study in graduate school. Others, however, will require both a personal statement and a statement of purpose . The personal statement should focus on you and your background, while the statement of purpose should focus on your research or what you plan to study in graduate school.

How to Write a Personal Statement for Graduate School

A writing sample for graduate school primarily serves an evidential function: its purpose is to give evidence of your qualifications to enter graduate school at the program you're applying to. Of course the central way it does so is by being a good piece of philosophical writing, and we'll spend a bunch of time on that below.
